History During the German invasion of Poland, the 8th Air Corps was formed from four other units and fought in the Battle of the Bzura River. It was commanded by Maj. Gen. Kazimierz Kleeberg, with Janusz Kuzminski as the deputy commander. It fought against the German 6th Army and consisted of 22 fighter, 24 bomber and 36 ground-attack aircraft. The 8th Air Corps was disbanded after the capitulation of Polish government-in-exile in France, and was never re-formed. Commanding officers Gen. Kazimierz Kleeberg Gen.
